Material

Also available in HDPE

High-Density Polyethylene (HDPE) stands out as an exceptional choice for boat construction. This thermoplastic material offers a multitude of advantages that makes it almost indestructible.

HDPE is recyclable and lasts for a very long time. Drive it on the rocks, crash it into the quay? No problem, this is because of HDPE's shock-absorbing capabilities. Instead of breaking or cracking, it absorbs the energy, and there's no structural damage!

Element 48 HDPE

Unsinkable

HDPE is lighter than water, it will never sink.

Despite this, all our boats are equipped with multiple air chambers, making these boats 100% unsinkable.

Sustainable

HDPE is 100% recyclable, has the lowest impact on the environment to produce, doesn't need anti-fouling, and last but not least, a really long life-span. This makes our boats really sustainable.

Zero Maintenance

No more rust, corrosion, osmosis or wood rot. HDPE is here to stay!

No antifouling needed, it won't even stick!.

Stop maintaining, start enjoying your time on the water!

Indestructible

No matter the circumstances, even when it's being driven on rocks or dropped from a crane, this boat remains unbreakable and undented thanks to its exceptional shock-absorbing capabilities.
